LEARNING THE ROPES OF CONNECTION: THE MYSTERIOUS, SPIRITUAL YOU

Human beings are on the planet to make connection. Whether it's reaching for a new vitamin supplement, trying out a new exercise regimen, or planning a new course of study, we're always striving for connection in all manner of ways.

Keeping it all together can be a monumental task. Where does one begin? What is the director of it all? Why does one choose what one chooses? Who or what, in the end, is in control?

Destiny is one-time – we have this life in which to manifest a foundation for growth and development, or not. Would you like to reveal your destiny, listen to the 'sounds of the spheres' which may be calling you, clamouring for your attention?

There are basics – new thinking, new ideas, new sensitivities – and there are things which call us from afar, beckon us to its cause, its purpose.

Can the dragonfly, which flits from flower to leaf, do no less? Do you think it knows what it does, responding to its dragonfly-purpose?

All are welcome to come explore the more mysterious, spiritual side of themselves during this online ecology. As always, it will be practical as well.
