

The Emin Way Presents

Discover the Yellow and Green of Our Soul: Our Connected and Creative Natures

During this time of staying at home, people are rediscovering parts of their homes about which they may have forgotten. For example, the little used guest room might be a great place to read in the afternoon. Or, the ping pong table in the basement can hours of entertainment in the evening after dinner. Or, lying on the picnic table in the backyard turns out to be a perfect way to gaze at the stars at night.

It is the same with our soul. Our soul has aspects to it that are often a bit of a secret because we traffic mainly in the known and trusted, the tried and true. There are whole worlds to be discovered within this realm, all naturally there to facilitate and enrich our life.

Join us on Saturday as we provide ourselves the opportunity to come to know the nature and frequencies of the yellow and green of the soul.
